BIO

Jon Mumma is one of the hottest young comedians in Washington D.C., performing regularly at clubs and colleges all over the Baltimore/Washington metropolitan area. His fun, friendly, and charming stage presence captivates any audience. Inspired by the comedic geniuses of Brian Regan and Jim Gaffigan, Jon's clever and autobiographical material keeps audiences engaged and eager to hear more.

Jon was the 2006 winner of the DC Improv's annual stand-up comedy competition and was a featured performer at the 2006 and 2007 DC Comedy Festival. He has opened for such national headliners as Kevin Pollack, Judah Friedlander, Todd Barry, and Eddie Gossling. His simple approach and relaxed personality puts an audience at ease as he delivers non-stop laughs.
